ADJUTANT-GENERAL'S REPORT.

ADJUTANT-GENERAL'S OFFICE, }
TRENTON, N. J., January 3, 1850. }

SIR:—The Adjutant-General has to report that no improvement has been made in the condition of the militia since his last communication; and would most respectfully suggest that some efficient measures should be speedily adopted, to give life and energy to the system under its present regulation, and in fact to prevent its organization in time of peace becoming materially impaired.

Most respectfully,

Your obedient servant,

T. CADWALADER,

Adjutant-General N. J. M.

His Excellency,

DANIEL HAINES,

Commander-in-Chief. &c., &c.
